Independent hearing aid providers come out on top

Keith Donaghy - your local independent Audiologist

ACCORDING to a "WHICH" report carried out in March and April 2014 Independent hearing aid providers were rated as the most satisfactory compared to Boots, Amplifon, Specsavers and Hidden Hearing.

An independent hearing aid audiologist is able to prescribe hearing aids from all manufacturers and find the exact system to suit your needs and budget. However some of the high street hearing aid retailers are tied to specific manufacturers therefore giving a limited choice.

Buying a hearing aid system is not just about the cost of the aid itself, you are purchasing an on-going package and so other things to consider are:-

1. Who is going to fit my hearing aids, and will I subsequently see the same person?
2. What is the level of ongoing aftercare and support after your hearing aids have been fitted?

3. Is the aftercare and support included in the price of the hearing aid system?
4. What is the length of the manufacturers warranty?

5. Can you trial the hearing system?
6. What are the ongoing costs i.e. batteries and wax guards?

Beware, some companies offer free guides on hearing aids and follow these up with home visits. They are often lead generation companies who operate in a sales based way. They may sell your information on to other large hearing aid providers who will target you with mail and telephone calls to entice you to buy their hearing aid systems. The same can also be said for websites which appear to offer comparatively low priced hearing aids.

If you are thinking of purchasing a hearing system it is important to compare the cost with a like for like hearing aid system and what aftercare is included. If the aftercare is not included in the cost of the system then how much will it typically cost you over the life of your hearing aids.

It can take time to fit and adjust a hearing system correctly so that it is working to maximise your hearing. Without a professional, attentive fitting, and programming by an experienced audiologist and a reliable aftercare service in place it is possible that your hearing aids will end up in a drawer somewhere because they failed to give you the benefits that you expected.

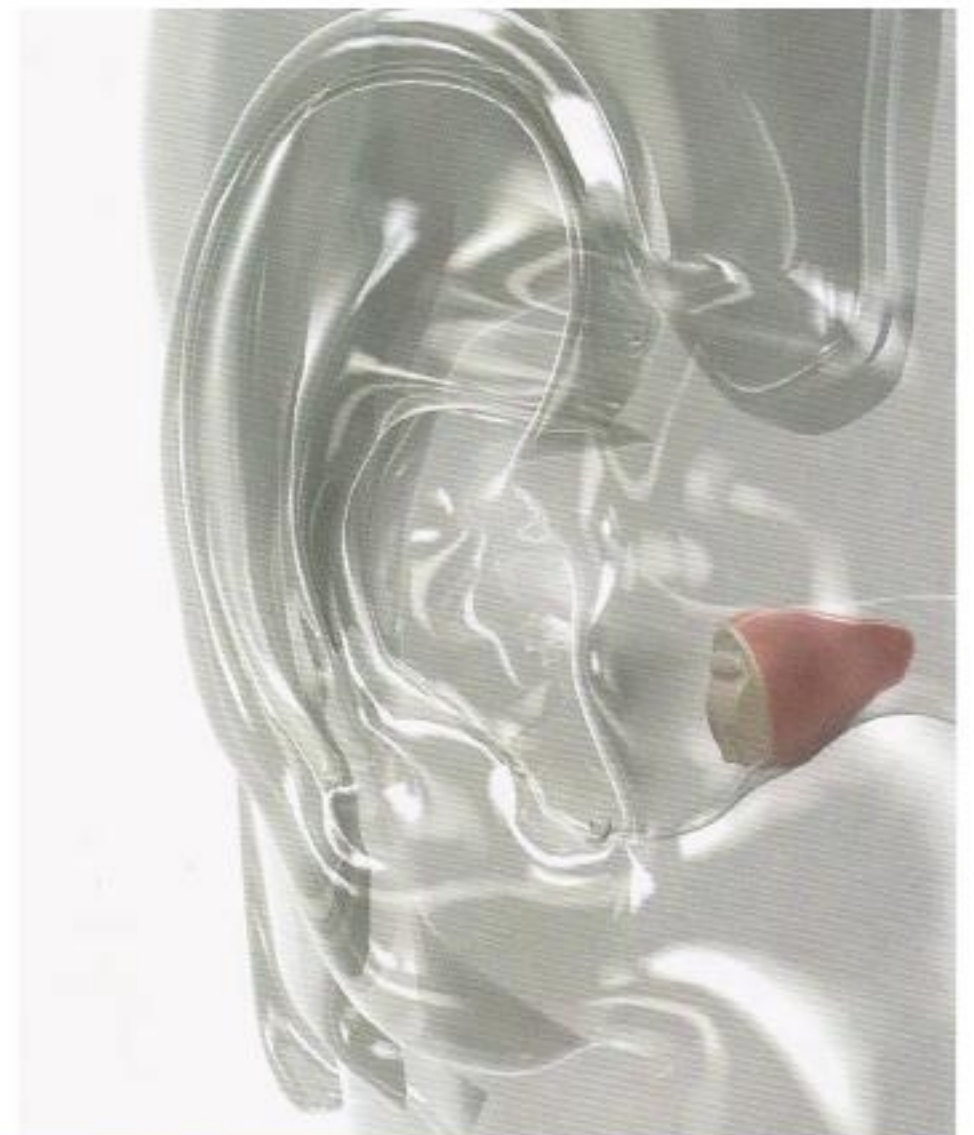

The difference between a good and a bad hearing aid solution is not usually the aid itself, since most aids are made by a handful of manufacturers. It's more to do with the professional fit and service given by the provider. Hearing aids are only as good as the expertise of the dispensing audiologist.

Keith Donaghy is an independent hearing aid audiologist with over 27 years experience of prescribing hearing aid systems in the Oxfordshire area. A consultation with him is FREE and he will happily help and advise you which, if necessary, hearing system will suit your lifestyle and budget the best. All with no obligation, what have you got to lose?

Book a free hearing consultation today either in Witney, Buckingham, Banbury or in the comfort of your own home.

Roadworks to start again after short Christmas break DELAYS AHEAD ON COUNTY'S ROADS

Scientists and families enjoy day of Lego

PARENTS and youngsters teamed up for a day of building with Lego at the Diamond Light Source in Harwell on December 22. They worked on a replica of the site after senior technician Paul Amos wanted a way of explaining what he does to his son. For full story see page 11.

AFTER a Christmas reprieve a series of roadwork projects are due to launch across Oxfordshire - sparking a warning to drivers from the county's transport boss.

As of Monday the second phase of work on London Road in Oxford will begin, with 500 metres being resurfaced between the junctions of Northfield Road and Wharton Road.

Work will also begin this month on creating a hamburger-style roundabout at Milton Interchange near Didcot, expected to last for much of the year.

Roadworks for a £5.5million revamp of Frideswide Square outside Oxford Station and £500m Westgate Shopping Centre are also set to begin.

While £1.3m works on improving The Plain roundabout in the city was delayed in October until early 2015.

It comes as a £7m scheme to improve the Kennington and Hinksey roundabouts was completed in December.

And Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet member for transport David Nimmo Smith said traffic could back up as projects either begin, or start up again.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

He said: "We are entering into a major phase of regeneration with exciting projects coming up.

"There will be a number of schemes to ensure that the transport infrastructure is able to meet the demands that will be placed on it in future years.

"We have to accept that there will be delays while this work is going on."

Work on Frideswide Square will see the road layout remodelled by removing the traffic lights and creating roundabouts in an effort to improve traffic flow, starting from February.

The first phase of the Frideswide Square development finished last month, which saw four-way lights installed at Worcester Street.

And the development of Westgate was approved by Oxford City Council in December, with the multi-storey car park due to shut from January 5.

Cllr Nimmo Smith added: "Although this work will cause disruption, we must remember why so much is being done."

Celebrity

A WIDE selection of famous faces and celebrities paid a visit to Oxfordshire over the course of the year.

The royal family were well represented in the county during 2014.

Prince William (pictured) visited Oxford University in September on the same day it was announced that Kate was pregnant with their second child.

Crowds gathered outside the university and shouted cheers of congratulations to William as he arrived, with some of those having travelled from as far as the United States.

Kate had been scheduled to open the China Centre building along with William, but had to pull out because she was suffering from morning sickness.

Three of the Queen's children – Prince Charles, Princess Anne and Prince Edward – also made an appearance in the county.

Charles opened a heritage garden at Great Milton restaurant Le Manoir aux Quat'Saisons last month, while Anne had a look round the Soldiers of Oxfordshire Museum in Woodstock.

Edward visited King Alfred's Academy in Wantage and Dorchester Abbey in April, although a planned trip to Caterham F1 Team's base in Leafield had to be cancelled because of the wet weather.

And numerous dignitaries came to Oxfordshire in October to pay their respects to the 11th Duke of Marlborough at his funeral.

The duke died in his sleep at Blenheim Palace.

Wallingford was also transformed into a television set that month, as TV stars Harry Hill, David Mitchell and Ben Miller came to the town to film children's show 'Professor Branestawm'.

It was also revealed that George Clooney had bought a home near Henley with his wife Amal Alamuddin in October.

Politics

OXFORDSHIRE County Council leader Ian Hudspeth got the ball rolling in April when he revealed his transport visions for the future.

A monorail around the city headlined Cllr Hudspeth's 'Connecting Oxfordshire' launch, which looked beyond £800m of investment by 2031 which was already pledged.

In May, Labour dominated Oxford City Council's elections, retaining control by winning 17 of the 25 seats on offer.

While UKIP were the big European elections winners in South East England as party leader Nigel Farage was joined by two of his other candidates.

In October a new era began at South Oxfordshire District Council as John Cotton became its new leader after the death of Ann Ducker (pictured).

Mrs Ducker, 71, died of cancer on September 21, and had been leader since 2003.

Meanwhile, prime minister and Witney MP David Cameron paid a surprise trip to Didcot on September 27.

He visited Great Western Park to announce a new policy of first home discounts for under 40s ahead of the Conservative Party Conference.

And deputy prime minister Nick Clegg had breakfast with schoolchildren and celebrity chef Raymond Blanc in Oxford on November 3.

He was at Brasserie Blanc to promote National School Meals Week and the introduction of his free school meals initiative back in September.

However, Mr Clegg did not leave the city without having a jibe at the county council, urging the authority to stop its "grumbling" over the policy.

That, as you would expect, sparked an angry reaction from Melinda Tilley, the county council's cabinet member for education, who said Mr Clegg's criticism was "absolutely crass".

NEWS REVIEW 2014

Development

HOUSING developments were at the top of the agenda throughout 2014, as the five district councils drew up their local plans of where to build new homes.

The Oxfordshire Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) claimed that more than 100,000 new houses needed to be built in the county by 2031.

And each council's attempts to fit their share of housing into their district has proved controversial, with residents protesting against increasingly large developments in their neighbourhoods.

The councils are still working on their local plans, which are currently going through the consultation stages ahead of being submitted to government.

Individual developments have also stirred up emotions, such as the ongoing saga over proposals to build 159 homes on Drayton Road in Abingdon.

The development was dependant on the relocation of the pedestrian crossing on Marcham Road, which was turned down in March before the decision was reconsidered and overturned in October.

Campaigners also formed a human chain around West Way shopping centre in Botley in protest of plans to overhaul the site to the tune of £100million - which was rejected by Vale of White Horse District Council in December.

Concerns were also raised over plans that were submitted in September to build a 555-home estate in Wallingford, with fears of overdevelopment in the area.

But some proposed developments have received a more positive reaction, such as plans for the £500m Westgate Shopping Centre and Oxford train station.

Building work has continued at the new Oxford Parkway station, being constructed between the city and Kidlington.

Community Project, which encourages youngsters to get involved in creative pursuits, is given the go ahead by West Oxfordshire District Council.

September

DIDCOT: The first 20mph speed limit for the town is approved by Oxfordshire County Council for Oxford Crescent - where 10-year-old Freddie Perry was hit by a car in 2013.

OXFORD: Prince William visits Oxford, without pregnant wife Kate, to open a new Oxford University centre for China studies.

WALLINGFORD: An application to build 166 homes at the former site of Carmel College in Moulsoford is given the go ahead.

ABINGDON: MP Nicola Blackwood speaks in parliament about the need for south-facing slip roads at Lodge Hill.

WANTAGE: Gerald Wixey reveals himself as the whistle-blower who exposed Britain's nuclear programme in the 1980s.

WEST OXON: Carterton mayor Lynn Little reacts angrily to the town's border with Brize Norton being compared to the situation between Russia and Ukraine.

October

DIDCOT: The Sprat is to be demolished in place of six new homes, while a cooling fan failure causes Didcot B to catch fire.

• Roadworks on the southern bypass caused traffic misery for many motorists

Travel

ROADWORKS and traffic delays were a hot topic throughout the year, as a number of transport schemes were carried out across the county.

Work began in June to develop the Hinksey Hill Interchange and Kennington roundabout, leading to traffic chaos for commuters while it was carried out.

Delays due to the weather meant that work overran, but it was finally completed at the end of December.

Oxfordshire County Council announced in October they would begin work on the Milton Interchange to create a hamburger-style junction, while north-facing slip roads will be built at Chilton onto the A34.

There were renewed calls from Oxford West and Abingdon MP Nicola Blackwood for south-facing slip roads to be built at Lodge Hill.

It comes as Abingdon continues to be affected by congestion issues, and it is thought that upgrading Lodge Hill would alleviate traffic by allowing cars to access the southbound A34 from the north of the town.

County council leader Ian Hudspeth also revealed his vision for improving traffic in West Oxfordshire in the summer, with ideas including a tramway, upgrading the A40 or even building a monorail.

In October, 10 MPs pledged their support to re-instating the direct Oxford to Bristol rail service, which could lead to the re-opening of Grove Station 50 years after it closed.

And renovation work was completed at Didcot Parkway train station in September.

Broadband scheme hits 25,000 homes

MORE than 25,000 homes and business in Oxfordshire now have access to superfast broadband.

Villages in West Oxfordshire and Vale of White Horse were the latest to receive the new technology, which was made available to 3,500 properties last month.

Four fibre cabinets are now also live in Oxford, Wallingford, Thame and Henley-on-Thames.

The introduction of superfast broadband is a multi-million pound programme run by Oxfordshire County Council and service provider BT.

Nick Carter, cabinet member for business and customer services on the county council, said the new broadband would benefit Oxfordshire residents.

Cllr Carter said: "I am delighted that, through this partnership, we are able to connect many thousands of homes that wouldn't have had access to high-speed networks.

"Superfast broadband will help local businesses thrive, and ensure residents in rural communities get the benefits of online information, entertainment and communication."

The 'Better Broadband for Oxfordshire' programme aims to provide the new service to 64,500 homes and businesses by the end of this year.

BT and the county council

By Jack Johnson

have pledged to ensure at least 90 per cent of premises will have access to 24 Megabytes per second (Mbps).

Most recently, 800 properties in Combe and Stonesfield, 750 in Hailey, Milton-under-Wychwood and Acott-under-Wychwood, as well as 1,000 in Sutton Courtenay, West Hanney and East Hanney, received the service.

Once cabinets are live, residents and businesses can request to upgrade their service from their Internet provider.

Steve Henderson, BT's regional broadband partnership director, is pleased with the progress of the programme.

He added: "The rollout of fibre broadband across Oxfordshire is gathering pace as we reach more communities, bringing the benefits of high speed broadband to more and more families and businesses."

Mr Henderson continued: "People are increasingly relying on the Internet for shopping, playing games online and keeping in touch with friends and family especially over Christmas."

"At the same time, faster fibre broadband enables small businesses to stay in contact with their customers and suppliers more easily and quickly."

Doric appeal West Way rejection

DEVELOPERS Doric Properties has appealed against the rejection of its £100million redevelopment plans for West Way shopping centre in Botley.

Vale of White Horse District Council's planning committee unanimously voted against the plans on December 3.

The committee raised concerns over the impact the development could have on the community and local infrastructure in Botley.

Doric wanted to demolish

West Way shopping centre, Elms Parade shops, Field House sheltered housing and the empty Elms Court office block.

A supermarket, cinema, hotel, gym, shops, 50 flats and 525 student rooms was proposed to be built in their place.

Vale leader Matthew Barber said he was disappointed by the appeal.

He added: "It is disappointing that Doric have decided to appeal the decision rather than working to better address the numerous concerns that people have."

Doric's appeal will be determined by the Planning Inspectorate at a date yet to be set.

County council duo to receive New Year gongs

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

OXFORDSHIRE'S chief fire officer and the person who managed the Olympic torch route through the county in 2012 have both been named in the Queen's New Year's Honours list.

David Etheridge of Oxfordshire County Council's Fire and Rescue Service has been made an OBE in this year's list, while county network co-ordinator Katherine Powley has been given an MBE.

Abingdon resident David, 48, has led the fire service since 2010, having started off as a firefighter in 1986.

He is the first person to have been appointed as the chief fire officer in the same service from joining as a firefighter, and has said he was accepting the award on behalf of everyone who has worked for the service.

"I am both humbled and delighted in equal measure to have received an OBE from Her Majesty the Queen," said David.

"Receiving the OBE is one of the proudest moments of my life – I never dreamt when I joined that one day I would become chief fire officer and this really is the icing on the cake.

"It is a privilege to work with so many dedicated colleagues and partners who provide me with tremendous support who have helped and trusted me to shape the service to become one of the best in the United Kingdom."

And 52-year-old Katherine, who also lives in Abingdon, was given her honour for overseeing and managing events that affect the road network in Oxfordshire.

She previously worked for Oxford

City Council before joining the county council in 2001, and is also a member of the board of directors for seven Oxfordshire academies.

"It is a real honour to be made a MBE and I am very proud," said Katherine.

"I love the variety of my job – whether it is mapping for the Olympic torch route or responding to an unexpected road closure – and like the rest of my team, I strive to go that extra mile in order to get things done."

"I could not do what I do without the support of my colleagues and my receiving the MBE is the result of a team effort."

New pool set to open

A NEW swimming pool in Blackbird Leys will open its doors to the public for the first time on Monday, January 5.

The news comes as Temple Cowley Pools in Temple Road, Cowley, was closed on Christmas Eve after Oxford City Council upheld its decision to turn the facility into 47 new homes.

All operations have now been transferred to the Leys Pools and Leisure Centre in Pegasus Road.

Council leader Bob Price said: "The new Leys Pools and Leisure Centre will be a state-of-the-art swimming pool and fitness complex serving the whole of the south-eastern part of the city, located only 1.5 miles from Temple Cowley.

"It will replace the out of date and high-cost pools at Temple Cowley and Blackbird Leys and will be a huge asset to the city."

The new pool includes an eight lane, 25 metre competition-standard swimming pool, a teaching pool, a fun water area for children, new changing facilities, a sauna and a new reception and café area.

It will be officially opened on January 24.

Families build their own Diamond Light Source

FIFTY families spent over five hours building a Lego model of the Diamond Light Source in Harwell.

Members of staff were joined by their children on December 22 to put together the model which consisted of 11,000 pieces.

The model was masterminded

By Jack Johnson

jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

by Paul Amos, a senior technician at the Diamond Light Source, as a way of explaining his work to his son Harvey.

It also combines their love for Lego building.

Paul said: "Harvey also has an interest in what I do at work."

"It can be hard to explain what a synchrotron is and what it does to a young person who hasn't seen anything like it before."

"So I decided that I could use the Lego Digital Designer to build the synchrotron machine as a means to help me describe how the machine works."

"We were very excited about seeing my digital Lego storage ring being built in to an actual Lego model."

The science facility is used for research into a wide range of specialisms including viruses, vaccines and jet engines.

Paul's idea for a model was set up as an educational project and Laura Holland, public engagement manager at Diamond, said she was keen to get other families involved.

She added: "It took our engineers and scientists almost five years to build Diamond, but we were hoping to build our model in less than five hours."

"It was a really fun event, and it's a great way for the children of our staff to find out what mum, dad, aunt or uncle do every day."

The model has now been dismantled so it can be taken to events across the country.

MP's Corner

Nicola Blackwood

MP for Oxford West and Abingdon

Oxfordshire's future is bright

THOUSANDS of my constituents suffer awful congestion caused by the A34 every day, but when I was elected in 2010, there had been no major investment on the A34 for over two decades.

In two years of campaigning, I brought the roads minister to see the gridlock for himself, raised the A34 in Parliament and led delegations to the Department for Transport.

Already millions of pounds of improvements are underway at Junction 9, Hinksey Hill and Marcham, but this is not enough to solve the safety and capacity problems on the road.

That is why I went right to the top, lobbying the Chancellor personally for the money we need for the A34 and making it clear that the A34 is dangerously congested and that without a long-term capacity solution and immediate improvements to Lodge Hill, Peartree and Botley junctions, central Oxfordshire will grind to a halt.

I will continue to fight for the vital diamond junction at Lodge Hill, which did not qualify for this funding round.

I have also been campaigning for years for the long term flood defences we need, as thousands of local people suffer the stress of flood risk every day.

I was in Oxford and Abingdon for the appalling floods of 2007 and in 2010 the Government and Environment Agency said we didn't qualify for a £140m Flood Defence Scheme.

In total, the Chancellor has committed £92 million for Oxfordshire. It is clear that the future is bright for Oxfordshire, and I personally will do all I can to make sure we continue to press for the infrastructure we need and I will not stop until it is signed, sealed and delivered.

Wallingford shoe shop to stay

CLARKS shoe shop will remain open in the town after an agreement was reached between the owner and the landlord.

The Oxfordshire Guardian previously reported the St Mary's Street shop was due to close on December 20, but it will now stay in the centre of Wallingford.

Town councillor Bernard Stone said: "The shop has reached agreement with the landlord and is now staying."

"It is good news for Wallingford."

Editor's pick of the pages: Oxford

2014

NEWS Editor Katriona Ormiston shares her choice of the Oxfordshire Guardian's best front pages from 2014:

Last year saw the launch of the Oxford city edition of the Oxfordshire Guardian to replace the previous Oxford Journal.

The Oxford Journal was set aside in July to streamline the newspaper with the existing five Oxfordshire Guardian editions.

The three front pages picked show this transition with the old-style Oxford Journal on the right and two new city

Before delving into why some of the front pages were chosen, I want to make clear they were not chosen because they are 'good' news in that what has happened is nice.

Far from it sometimes.

But they are examples of good reporting to do justice to a story that people need to hear.

JULY 17: On the eve of the first anniversary of 15-year-old Martha Fernback's death, her mum Anne-Marie Cockburn agreed to an in-depth interview.

The Summertown mum had been through turmoil but stood up to speak out against the status quo.

JULY 3: Police described the murder of Jayden Parkinson as the first case of its kind - because Ben Blakeley buried her in the grave of his uncle.

As Jack Johnson sat through much of the five-week murder trial at Oxford Crown Court listening to harrowing evidence, he managed to pick out an angle many other reporters missed.

MAY 29: As Oxfam is a cornerstone of British charity - and has its headquarters in Cowley - it was shocking to find its former head of counter fraud had stolen more than £64,000.

Particularly when you think of the kind of work Oxfam could do for people who needed that money so much more.

Editor's pick of the pages: Didcot

2014

VARIOUS Didcot stories could have made this page. For an Oxfordshire town it has punched high above its weight in terms of news stories, something our Didcot reporter Jack Johnson has been revelling. The three fronts below show a range of some such stories - from crime to human interest to community issues, and last but not least, the momentous moment the Didcot A Power Station cooling towers were demolished. Another power station story was up there in the running to be included below because just three months later a blaze ripped through the other half of the station which was still running. Jack caught onto the news over social media despite it all kicking off on a Sunday night, and was the first to follow up on the fact that the fire was probably caused by an electrical fan fault for the printed edition of the paper out four days later.

OCTOBER 9: Amid much of the news that police bases are being scaled back, moved or even closed around Oxfordshire, Didcot got some good news. Jack quizzed the police's deputy chief constable to find out more. And it was more welcome news for residents to find out George Clooney bought a house in the countryside south of the town.

JULY 31: Not only was our reporter there watching the blow down from the press pen on the power station site, but Taylor Newspapers staff joined the throng watching the moment three of the towers toppled to surrender their guard over Didcot. It came the same week as Ben Blakeley was finally sentenced for the murder of pregnant Didcot teenager Jayden Parkinson, making it one of the biggest news weeks the town has seen.

SEPTEMBER 11: Tragedy turned to hope for one Didcot family - a year on from 10-year-old Freddie Perry's death, after being hit by a car driven by a teacher at his sister's school. Their campaign to lower the speed limit on the road was approved, giving them comfort that their loss may mean it is less likely others suffer the same fate.

Editor's pick of the pages: Wallingford

THE Oxfordshire Guardian's Wallingford paper does not have a full year to pick from.

It became the sixth edition of the Oxfordshire Guardian when it was first launched on July 3.

But there are still plenty to choose from that made the grade.

The paper has been a popular edition in the series, which Jack Johnson has added to his portfolio of responsibilities.

Despite Wallingford being one of the smaller towns in Oxfordshire, he has not been short of some good stories which residents have been swiping from stands about the town.

The filming of a BBC TV series in the town centre - found by scouring through council documents - proved one such hit.

This story spiked page views on the Oxfordshire Guardian's website and may well explain why so many knew about the filming and visited the set.

NOVEMBER 13: Remembrance Day is always a big deal for Wallingford as neighbours to RAF Benson, and this year marks 100 years since the start of the First World War.

Jack spoke to RAF Benson about the part they played in the Second World War and the troops lost which brought the war and its effects very close to home.

OCTOBER 2: Wallingford is no stranger to TV cameras, as the Midsomer Murders series was shot there.

But there was an extra bit of excitement for residents to find out celebs including Harry Hill, Ben Miller and David Mitchell would be tackling a fire in the town hall with a tea making machine for a children's Christmas comedy.

It clocked up thousands of hits on our website in one day.

OCTOBER 30: This front page covers two news updates on major stories in the town.

One was about a Morrisons for Wallingford which dug in its heels against planning rules over a new store, while the decision day for a 555-home estate was also pushed back.

They both meant more delays for big developments.

Editor's pick of the pages: Wantage

WANTAGE is very much still in limbo with regards to expansion and housing developments to be built. All year council officers and developers have been thrashing out how much money will be given to the town to build infrastructure to support the 2,500-home Grove airfield development. Only once this has been agreed can building work progress.

One shocking story that emerged was of the death of aristocratic racehorse trainer James Douglas-Home, 61, the nephew of former Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home. An inquest ruled he killed himself with a shotgun while suffering depression. However Wantage has had its fair share of good news stories as well. The Earl and Countess of Wessex opened a new arts building at King Alfred's Academy in April, and the first ever combined carnival and music festival drew in crowds of up to 10,000 people at Manor Road park.

OCTOBER 2: Plans to reopen Grove Station have been mentioned numerous times, but this latest news could well have legs. It seems to be a plausible scheme backed by all the right people so far - including a group of MPs, Vale of White Horse District Council and Oxfordshire County Council. I wouldn't hold your breath for this year, but it could well be on the cards.

AUGUST 7: It is not often you get to witness something becoming a piece of treasure. But not only was this piece unearthed in a Wantage field, it also had a royal connection to the town as a brooch of the grandson of Wantage-born King Alfred the Great. The coin was ruled treasure at Oxfordshire Coroner's Court after being analysed by history experts.

NOVEMBER 13: Wantage is still riding high over winning the coveted title of 'Britain's best town centre'. Residents raced into action to improve their town after Wantage was branded a 'ghost town' in national press in 2009. The number of empty shops has since dropped from 26 to just three.

Editor's pick of the pages: Witney

THE West Oxfordshire paper is among our newest editions, having launched in January.

It has been a work in progress, developing to focus mainly on Witney and Carterton in mid-2014.

As Witney is a large market town which has stayed the pace in terms of progression - and which is well and truly on the map as the Prime Minister's constituency, Adam Flinn has not found it too tricky to dig up news.

As everywhere, it has its problems too - such as development or funding for important projects like food banks.

And everything is brought closer into the spotlight because it is on the Prime Minister's doorstep.

The three fronts below show the variety of stories that have come up.

No doubt that spotlight will only get brighter as we come closer to the general elections taking place on May 7, 2015, which are shaping up to be extremely interesting already.

JULY 3: The hundreds of flowers laid within days of 14-year-old Liberty Baker's death is evident of how much this tragedy gripped the community.

It is every parent's worst nightmare for something like this to happen to their child, but her family drew the strength to speak out about what she was like and what was lost.

SEPTEMBER 25: An important story about developments near Carterton and Brize Norton took an interesting turn with residents likening the situation to Russia 'bullying' Ukraine and encroaching on their land.

The comments sparked an angry reaction from Carterton's mayor. The campaigners made their point in an interesting way.

JUNE 5: The phrase "all the world's a stage" springs to mind with this story.

And it is Greenpeace who stepped into centre stage here. The fracking protestors took something which can be difficult to explain and acted out what effect it could have on peoples' lives, on the doorstep of the Prime Minister's house.

Editor's pick of the pages: Abingdon

A LOT of news stories from Abingdon have continued to roll on into 2015.

There is uncertainty over when or whether the town will get its own cinema in the Guildhall after a funding grant was rejected, northbound link roads at the A34 Lodge Hill junction are still in the pipeline, a controversial pedestrian crossing in the town - which a 159-home housing development off

Drayton Road needs permission for to go ahead - has been thrown back and forth to different council meetings.

It is this year that Abingdon's housing plan could also be decided as part of the Vale of White Horse District Council's Local Plan.

While a shocking story is ongoing because it is making its way through the criminal court system in Oxford.

What actually happened in the suspected murder by the Thames in Abingdon is expected to come out this year, with a provisional trial date having been set for April.

NOVEMBER 27: Any rise in homelessness is obviously not good news. But a real focus for this story was the fact that homelessness rose only a little, while the costs of housing homeless people jumped a shockingly disproportionate amount.

The story effectively calls into question if taxpayers' money is being used effectively at a time when cuts are rife.

But while Oxford fell to the flooding, Abingdon miraculously escaped the worst.

But this photo shows just how close some people's houses came to succumbing to Abingdon's rivers.

Welcome to The Lamb Inn

A traditional and beautiful 18th Century Cotswold village pub.

We have settled here after a number of years working in some of the finest hotels and restaurants across the UK. Our aim is to offer a relaxed, welcoming village pub with great service, ambience and creatively home cooked food, produced in our kitchen.

Enjoy the atmosphere of a classic old English inn with beams and a real log fire crackling away on a cold winters night. Settle down with a pint of your favourite Brakspears ale or whatever your favourite tipple is.

Dogs are allowed in the bar area making us perfect for all those enjoying a good country walk or ramble with well behaved four legged friends.

We support Cotswold businesses and use suppliers such as Castles Butchers in Burford, Butt's Farm near South Cerney and Cacklebean Farm Eggs near Stow on the Wold.

Whether it's a coffee, a quick pint, a light lunch following a long walk, something in your lunch hour from work or a candlelit dinner, The Lamb Inn has something for everyone. We look forward to welcoming you.

Puzzles

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Why not take a closer look ?

Luxury retirement living comes to Witney

FOR many people, retirement can't come soon enough. The idea of no longer working 9 to 5 and having the freedom to indulge in your hobbies or go travelling is something to relish. Enjoying life to the full is a top priority at every Richmond retirement village, where quality facilities, like-minded people and a safe and secure environment are all central to happiness and well-being.

Richmond Villages, which is part of Bupa and one of the pioneers in this field, designs, develops and operates their own premium retirement villages in the UK and has started construction of its latest, and sixth village in Witney. Opening in Winter 2015 it will provide Village Apartments offering an independent lifestyle; Village Suites which come with an all-inclusive package to help with the daily chores; and a Care Home providing 24-hour nursing and dementia care.

Richmond Villages research shows that their customers are downsizing from large 4 and 5 bedroom houses, with clients wanting large living spaces but just 2 bedrooms. For this reason, the Village Apartments are predominantly 2 bedrooms and average 1000 sq.ft. which is larger than the average new build 3 bedroom detached house! The apartments include a fully fitted kitchen with granite worktop, lounge diner, one or two bedrooms with fitted wardrobes, en-suite shower room to master bedroom and 'family' bathroom. Within the hallway is a laundry cupboard which includes a washing machine, tumble drier and further storage space.

Proof of the demand for this type of high quality retirement development is that 70% of the Village Apartments are already reserved! Property prices start at £225,000 for Village Suites and £295,000 for Village Apartments.

The belief at Richmond Villages is that retirement should be enjoyable and a positive and active stage in life to look forward to. Richmond Witney therefore includes all the aspirational facilities that have made its other villages so popular, including a wellness spa with swimming pool and gym, hair and beauty salon, a library, IT room, terrace café, quality restaurant and garden bar, and all set within beautifully landscaped grounds with a bowling green.

The concept of the retirement village was relatively unknown even just a few years ago, but as an increasing number of people have discovered, it ticks many of the boxes they sought when thinking about downsizing and planning how they wanted to live their later years.

Although the new retirement village is located just off Thorney Leys Road on the edge of Witney, the sales and marketing suite is in Witney town centre where there is plenty of free parking. The suite is located at 58 High Street, Witney and is open Monday to Saturday 10am-4pm.

For further information about Richmond Witney call the village advisers on 01993 768692 or visit www.richmond-villages.com/aston.

Youngster on the rise

ONE of Oxfordshire's hottest prospects will be ending 2014 in style, as acoustic and rock singer Jamie Felton is performing at The Coach and Horses Pub in Banbury on New Year's Eve.

Jamie (right), who lives in Ardley, is currently a Year 13 student at The Marlborough School in Woodstock where he studies A-Level Music, Maths and French while performing around the county.

"Everyone can expect a wide range of popular music spanning from the '60s to the present day," Jamie told the Guardian.

"My overall style is rock music on an acoustic guitar for the first two sets, then for the third set, I live the place up with rock songs on an electric guitar.

"I've also played there twice. The audience members were very friendly last time and gave me good feedback, so I'm looking forward to hopefully see some of them again."

Despite recording three albums and winning both 'Aylesbury's Got Talent' and 'Oxford's Got Talent' in 2010, the teenager is aware that becoming a successful musician is a 50/50 draw.

However, despite entering this risky industry, the aspiring star revealed he's got the backing from his parents.

"My parents are really supportive," Jamie said.

"I'm extremely busy with gigs that are all over the county, and my parents are very generous to drive me around.

"I'm very grateful because I couldn't play gigs without them."

Jamie added: "2015 will be one of the biggest years of my life.

"I have to concentrate on my schoolwork to achieve good grades for my A-Levels, and if I get into a music college in September, it will be a brand new way of life in terms of living and education."

The gig will start at 9pm, with tickets costing £6.

What's on this January?

WITH 2015 finally here, a whole host of theatre, music and comedy will be hitting the rest of the county this January.

Kicking off the entertainment will be the Cornerstone Arts Centre in Didcot with the screening of the 2013 blockbuster, 'The Hundred-Year-Old Man Who Climbed Out of the Window and Disappeared' on January 7 at the Station Road venue.

The Cornerstone will also be hosting an open mic night on the second Tuesday of each month, starting January 13, for all performers in the Oxfordshire area.

Rappers, musicians, actors and poets are all welcome to share their talents on stage.

At the end of the month, comedian, writer and radio presenter Robin Ince will bring his brand new tour, 'Bloom-ing Buzzing Confusion' to Didcot on January 29.

By James Richings

jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The 45-year-old, who is known for presenting the BBC radio show 'The Infinite Monkey Cage' with Brian Cox, will be asking unanswered questions which will leave your head hurting.

Moving to the north of the county to Banbury, The Mill Arts Centre will be hosting a very unique January pantomime.

The Cherwell Theatre Company will bring 'Robin Hood' to the Spiceball Park theatre from January 10 to January 18.

Comedian Andrew Lawrence will also be heading to Banbury as part of his 'Reasons To Kill Yourself' UK tour.

The 35-year-old will be in the market town on January 30 with his show suitable for anyone over the age of 16.

The Theatre Chipping Norton will show 2014's historical thriller, 'The Imitation Game' on January 15 and 17.

The film, which was released back in August, stars both Benedict Cumberbatch and Keira Knightly.

Staying at The Spring Street venue, the town's theatre will also host 'Buddy Holly's Winter Dance Party' on January 24.

Marc Robinson, who will star as the legendary '50s singer, will perform along with the country's best Ritchie Valens, Big Bopper and Dion tribute acts.

And finally, to round off the first month of entertainment, The Sinodun Players will perform their interpretation of 'Beauty and the Beast' from January 16 to 31 at The Wallingford Corn Exchange.

THE BALLAD OF RUDY

"An original show for children made especially for ages 3 and up. In this story Rudy doesn't have a red nose; rather it's his talent for new and exciting music that sets him apart from all the other Reindeer. Together with a magical Jazz Penguin he goes on an adventure that teaches him that life isn't about following the herd. Funny, warm and with a big heart, this show features live music, original songs and lots of imagination that is guaranteed to have children aged 3 and up mesmerised from start to finish. Sing the blues with a Polar Bear, jam with the Puffins and beat-box with an Arctic Fox. It all happens at the North Pole Jazz Lounge. It's gonna be coooool. <https://www.themillartscentre.co.uk>

"Learn how to dissolve tension, release busy mind chatter and relax more deeply than you thought possible in a nurturing peaceful atmosphere where week by week we will share ways and practices to develop a sense of deepening inner peace. There will be weekly session notes to take home to help you keep practicing if you wish to, so that each week we can add on more ways and experiences of relaxing and releasing tension. Bring a cosy warm blanket or mat, a soft cushion (for your neck or hips during relaxing time) and wear comfy layers to help you feel at ease. Absolute beginners welcome. 01295 279002

JOHNNY CASH ROADSHOW

"Welcome the Johnny Cash Roadshow, a show not to be missed by avid fans or the casual listener. This year prepare for a musical adventure unrivalled by any other that truly celebrates the career of a music legend, Johnny Cash. The UK's No1 Tribute, fronted by respected singer/songwriter Clive John, with The Spirit Band, re-create with astounding accuracy and truly capture the essence of what it was like to be at a real Cash show! Featuring Jill Schoonjans as June Carter and two more talented ladies as the Carter Sisters, all aspects of Cash's life are covered with impeccable taste. The show takes the audience from the 1950's right up to 2002 and all the stops in between. All the greatest hits are included, Ring of Fire, Walk the Line as well as the Johnny and June duets Jackson and If I Were a Carpenter and so many more, all the while accompanied by an amazing video back drop with evocative images and shots from Johnny Cash's life." <http://www.atgtickets.com/>

TOO MUCH, TOO YOUNG

"Isn't it daft that we ask teenagers to make really big decisions about their lives? Jack Bennett had to and it's done him no good whatsoever. He was going to be a world-renowned musician, but one wrong turn and look at him... a two-bit actor with an identity crisis. So he's decided to ask some pretty big questions; what's learning for? Why all the rush? And if all of the politicians and education experts are so smart, how come they never agree on the best way to do things? Jack will tickle your grey matter, probe your beliefs and fill your belly with laughs." <http://www.oxfordplayhouse.com/>

"Matthew McConaughey stars as a real-life Texas cowboy, whose free-wheeling life was overturned in 1985 when he was diagnosed as HIV-positive and given 30 days to live. In these early days of the AIDS epidemic, the U.S. was divided over how to combat the virus. Ron, now ostracized by many of his old friends, and bereft of effective medicines, took matters in his own hands, tracking down alternative treatments from all over the world by means both legal and illegal." 01295 279002

MY OLD LADY

A delightful, charismatic comedy drama starring Maggie Smith, Kristin Scott Thomas and Kevin Kline. A GIRL WITH A BOOK

"It's October 2012. Gunmen stop a bus in Pakistan and shoot three girls for wanting to go to school. How can a writer respond? Can a Guardian reader really be prejudiced? Knowing nothing about the situation, able to offer little more than outrage this writer was forced to come out from behind his desk and go into the community searching for answers to help him tell the story of a brave young woman's fight for girls' education. When his research uncovers attitudes at odds with his liberal convictions he also has to deal with what he learns about himself." 01608 642350

THE HOUSE OF FUN

"Banish those January blues with a variety night of sparkling music, saucy stand-up, scintillating theatre and more in this uproarious night led by Arthur Smith - and guest star Hal Cruttenden, who will be trialling new material (work in progress). A compere beyond compare, Arthur is a playwright, comedian and star of BBC's Loose Ends, Grumpy Old Men and The One Show. In The House of Fun, Arthur will introduce a series of acts including "rock n roll magician" (NME) Pete Heat, insightful comedian David Whitney, seven-piece band Slapper and sketch comedy duo Shirley and Shirley and Hal Cruttenden, one of the top comedians working in Britain today.

Be prepared for inspired comic observation, top class cabaret creations and wonderfully dark ideas." <http://www.oxfordplayhouse.com/>

A four band extravaganza including The Duckworths, Big Balooosh, Mississippi Disco and Rufus Goodlove will once again be performing their awesome sets in front of what will be another sell out audience, plus bar open 'till late at The Mill!" 01295 279002

VIOLETTE

Violette Leduc, a writer born out of wedlock at the beginning of the last century, encounters the great novelist Simone de Beauvoir, and begins an intense relationship - part pupil, part friend, part lover. Their lives and writing intertwine in this sharply observed and compelling biopic of a trailblazing feminist author. A beautifully crafted period piece from the acclaimed director of Seraphine. 01608 642350

French car giant Peugeot unveils new model in two-door sports coupe range RCZ-R is breaking the mould

INTRODUCING the hottest ever version of Peugeot's stunning two-door sports coupe - the RCZ-R.

First launched back in 2010, the RCZ broke the mould with its sensual feline curves and sporty, individually designed interior.

Since launch, mainstream Peugeot petrol and diesel engines have been offered: a 156bhp and 197bhp 1.6-litre

DRIVEN: Peugeot RCZ-R

By Philip Shoulder

THP turbo and a more economical 163bhp 2.0 HDI diesel.

Joining the range is this higher performance R model which could lay claim to being the most powerful road-going car that Peugeot has ever sold.

At its heart is a vast range of mechanical upgrades that wouldn't look out of place in a racing car - including a strengthened six-speed manual transmission.

Power is courtesy of a heavily reworked version of the firm's 1.6-litre THP turbocharged petrol engine, which now produces some 270bhp at 6,000rpm.

The exhaust has also been modified; featuring an enhanced 'sound system' to amplify the car's racy character.

The Peugeot RCZ-R rides on unique two-tone 19-inch alloys shod with Good-year Eagle F1 tyres for increased road-holding. Cornering is sharp and precise and grip levels high.

Performance is explosive: with 0-62mph taking 5.9 seconds and the R storming on to an electronically limited top speed of 155mph.

Yet despite this, efficiency and combined economy remains similar to that of the 197bhp engine.

Of course, 270bhp is a lot of power to be channelled through the front wheels, so you soon learn to feed in the power progressively.

In the cabin, sporty details separate the R from other RCZs, including red stitching, flat bottomed steering wheel and supportive leather and alcantara Recaro sports seats. It certainly meets the brief of luxurious sportiness.

Elsewhere the switchgear is identical to other Peugeot models and is functional and pleasant to look at.

The driving position is comfortable, with plenty of steering column adjustment, and space for front occupants is generous. The same can't be said for the rear seats - which are only suitable for small kids or luggage. The boot is surprisingly big though.

Verdict:

The R successfully fills the 'high performance' gap in the Peugeot RCZ range... and then some.

SPORT REVIEW 2014

Football

IT has been an eventful year for Oxford United with three managers, a change at the top table and a new brand of football.

The ball started rolling on January 26 when then manager Chris Wilder resigned to join Northampton Town after four and a half years in charge.

What followed was a two-month wait for a new manager and a drop in form that saw United fall out of Sky Bet League Two's automatic promotion places.

Gary Waddock was appointed head coach on March 22 but one win in seven games saw United finish outside of the play-offs.

It was evident that change was needed but what happened in the summer surprised many.

Fans favourite James Constable left for Eastleigh, while Ian Lenagan stood down as chairman, taking on the stadium development project instead.

And Darryl Eales was named the club's chairman with Mark Ashton as chief executive, but with that Waddock was replaced by Michael Appleton.

The U's began their league campaign with four defeats and while their form has picked up, a 5-1 loss at Cambridge United remains among the low points.

Appleton's appointment also saw the emergence of a new style of eye-catching attacking football, and with a stronger core developing over November and December, United enter the New Year in high spirits.

Over in the Vanarama Conference North, there has been change at Oxford City.

Mike Ford stepped down as manager after five years in charge and Justin Merritt returned after he quit in 2009.

Merritt has introduced a more expansive, free flowing passing game as well as seven Spaniards and are currently in the top 10.

Over in Division One South & West, Didcot Town and Wantage Town could not have had more different years.

Ian Concannon and Jamie Heapy guided Diddy away from the relegation zone last season and are in the top five at the end of the year after a 15 game unbeaten run and John Mills' impressive 35-goal return.

Over at Wantage, Gary Ackling took The Freds to the Southern League for the first time in May but two months into the season there was a change in the make-up of the club.

Tony Woodward stepped down as chairman and Ackling quit as boss.

Daniel Barry was appointed the new manager and, despite experienced players leaving, is starting to rebuild the team.

Zoldan guided United to safety last season but Abingdon have been unable to find any consistency in the league this year.

Motorsport

ON the track it has been a rather remarkable turnaround for Williams Martini Racing.

The Grove-based team emerged from the lowly doldrums of Formula One to beat Ferrari to third in the constructor's championship after impressive performances on the track.

The car was competitive throughout 2014 with Valtteri Bottas finishing fourth in the standings and Felipe Massa seventh.

Meanwhile, Enstone-based

Lotus had a disappointing season, scoring only 10 points.

However, it has been far from quiet at Caterham and Marussia with both teams struggling financially with staff redundancies and pulling out of the US and Brazilian Grand Prix.

Marussia then went onto cease trading completely.

On two wheels, Bradley Smith finished his second year in MotoGP with his first podium and as the top Brit in eighth in the standings.

And in the British Touring Car Championship, Jason Plato finished second in the standings and helped MG to the constructors' title.

Rugby Union

IT has been a year of mixed emotions for London Welsh after returning to the Aviva Premiership in June.

Their IPA Championship play-off final win over Bristol is their obvious highlight but then began their preparations for the top flight of English rugby.

Twenty-six new players arrived over the summer, including New Zealand World Cup winner Piri Weepu, but Welsh, who were hoping to not only survive but also compete in the Premiership, have endured a tough start to the season.

Justin Burnell's side are bottom of the league and without a win in all competitions, with a 78-7 defeat at Saracens their heaviest defeat.

Meanwhile, Oxford Harlequins have had a mixed bag since their promotion to National League 3 South West.

Quins are currently mid-table but will be hoping not to replicate a run of four-straight defeats in September and October come January.

PREMIERSHIP RUGBY IN OXFORD - BE PART OF IT

BEST MOMENTS 2014

Bradley's first MotoGP podium

THE wide-eyed smile on Bradley Smith's face says everything about this picture as he celebrates his first MotoGP podium with Valentino Rossi at Phillip Island in Australia.

Oxford-born Smith had a great season aboard the Monster Yamaha Tech3 with 13 top 10 finishes and deservedly signed a new deal for next year.

It seemed only fitting that the 24-year-old had a shot at a podium and on the other side of the world in October he got it.

He may have benefited from other riders falling off in front of him but a third place finish was well deserved.

Smith said at the time: "I thought I was in fourth or fifth, but then I saw my name in third on the board as I came around the corner, which was an amazing feeling."

London Welsh's top-flight return

HEAD coach Justin Burnell's expression of euphoria as he lifts the Greene King IPA Championship trophy with Tom May sums up the effort and commitment of London Welsh's play-off triumph.

It says everything about the never say die attitude of that team, which shone through in their comeback win over Leeds Carnegie in the semi-final and then in their brilliant victory against Bristol to clinch promotion.

This image marks a memorable and well-deserved return to the Aviva Premiership.

Burnell said back in June: "If you work hard you get rewards."

"That's our environment and that's what we thrive on."

"It's just fantastic for London Welsh, it is a fantastic club."

"How good is that going to be in Oxford and for the supporters - Premiership rugby."

"I'm absolutely over the moon."

Robinson remains optimistic

FLY-HALF Will Robinson remains hopeful that a first win is just around the corner for London Welsh.

The Exiles, who are bottom of the Aviva Premiership, were beaten 24-9 by next placed London Irish on Boxing Day.

It leaves Welsh winless this season but Robinson, who has recently enjoyed a run in the side at full-back, remains optimistic.

The 21-year-old said: "The team are really positive."

"We're taking every week as it comes and hopefully that first win will come."

He added: "We have got a really good environment here but we take it on the chin."

Robinson has made five league appearances so far this season and has enjoyed his time in the side.

He said: "Playing in the Premiership is where you want to be and I'm enjoying every moment."

Longford strikes late to rescue point

JACK Longford headed an injury time equaliser to earn Didcot Town a draw at Fleet Town last Saturday and extend their unbeaten run to 15 games.

The Railwaymen remained fourth in Division One South & West and have not lost in the league since August.

However, Didcot had to do it the hard way last weekend as goals from Simba Mlambo and Aaron Blaxhall put Fleet into a 2-0 lead.

But Didcot's resolve shone through and John Mills reduced the deficit on 75 minutes from the penalty spot.

And in the third minute of stoppage time, substitute Longford headed home to earn Diddy a point.

Ian Concannon and Jamie Heapy's side are next in action today when they welcome local rivals North Leigh to Loop Meadow.

Elsewhere in Division One South & West, Wantage Town remain winless under manager Daniel Barry.

The Alfredians put in an improved performance to the 5-0 defeat at North Leigh on December 20 but went down 2-1 at home to Swindon Supermarine on Saturday.

The defeat leaves Barry's side third from bottom in the table and without a win in nine league games.

Wantage host Evesham United this afternoon.

Meanwhile in the Vanarama Conference North, Oxford City were thumped 4-0 by Leamington on Saturday.

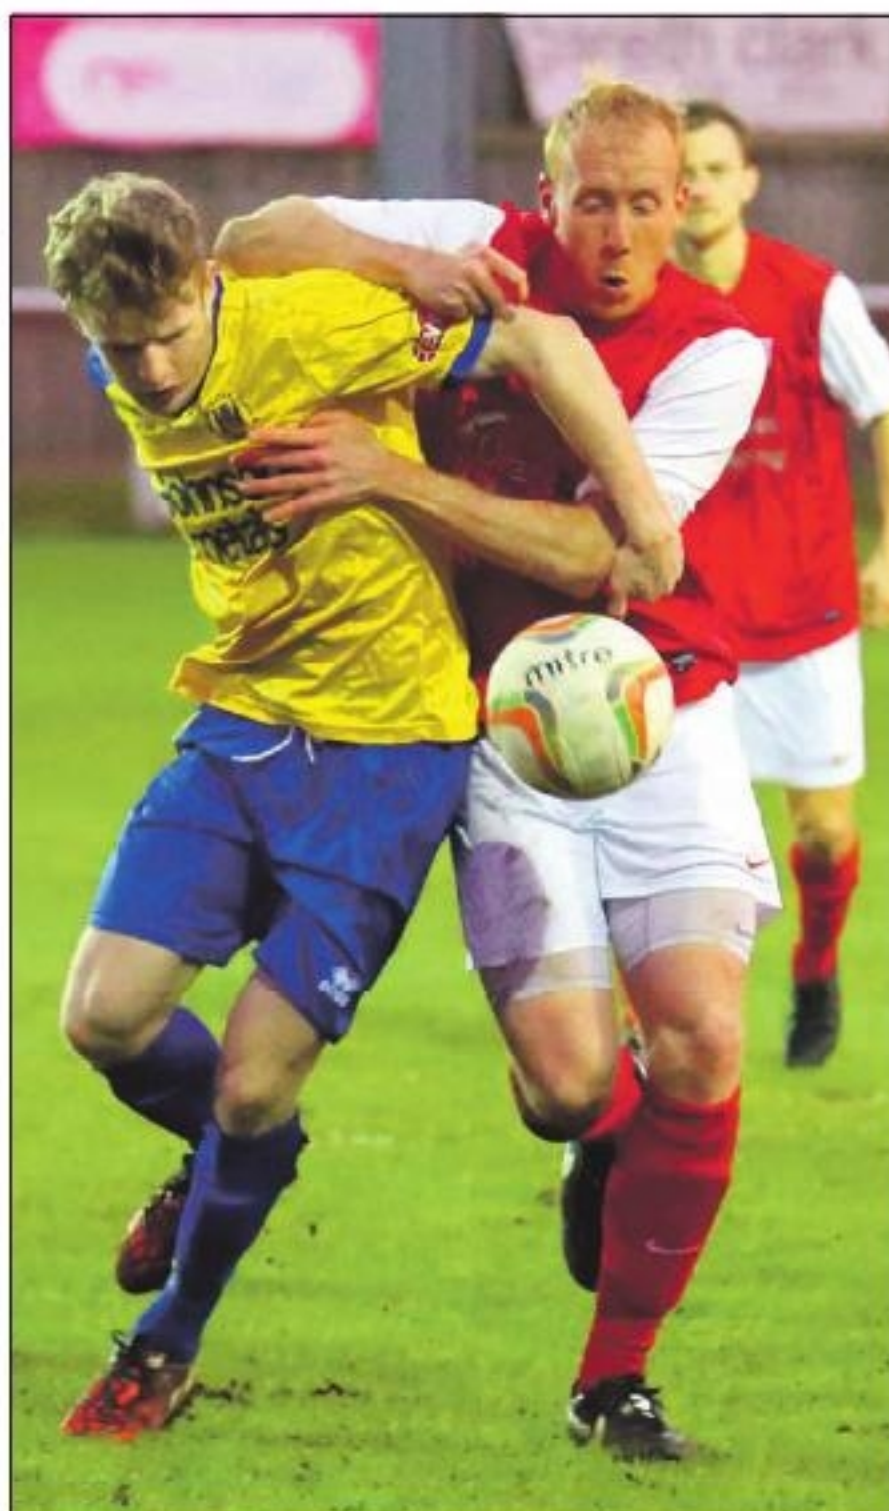

However, Justin Merritt's side have an immediate opportunity to avenge the heavy defeat as they face the Warwickshire club at Marsh Lane today.

City head into the new year in eighth place.

In the Hellenic Premier Division, Abingdon United and Milton United drew 2-2 last Saturday in the Vale derby.

Kidlington beat Ardley United 2-1 and Oxford City Nomads lost 2-0 at Thame United.

APPLETON - WE MUST BUILD MOMENTUM

• James Roberts, in action earlier this season, scored Oxford United's winner against Plymouth Argyle (picture by Steve Daniels)

OXFORD United head coach Michael Appleton said his players passed a "massive test" in their 2-1 comeback victory over 10-man Plymouth Argyle on Sunday.

John Campbell's tap-in and James Roberts' sensational winner seven minutes from time saw United end 2014 with a valuable victory against a side who had only lost once at home all season.

The win went some way to forgetting the 2-0 defeat to league leaders Shrewsbury Town on Boxing Day and Appleton

By Jack Johnson

jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

now wants to build momentum.

He told the club: "The lads passed a massive test.

"This should be a real confidence booster going into the New Year."

Appleton continued: "We spoke about momentum and habits and doing the right things before the game and being repetitive in what we do.

"I genuinely believe that good teams that win things and that are successful do those things well.

"It is not a matter of doing them for two or three weeks and taking our foot off the gas.

"We have got to keep doing it and we will see if we are capable of doing it."

Lewis Alessandra gave Plymouth a 19th minute lead after scampering free of Chey Dunkley and rounding Ryan Clarke before finding the net from a tight angle.

However, the turning point came on 33 minutes when Aaron Bentley was shown a straight red for a dangerous tackle on Sam Long.

United levelled the match on 69 minutes when Callum O'Dowda's freekick was headed across goal by Dunkley and Campbell was on hand to chest home his first goal for the club from a yard out.

And 18-year-old Roberts, on his first start for the club since returning from a hamstring injury, won the match in style on 83 minutes.

The teenager beat two Plymouth defenders before curling an unstoppable effort past former U's keeper Luke McCormick into the corner.

The win lifted United up to 16th in Sky Bet League Two, six points above the relegation zone and nine points adrift of the play-offs.

Oxford are next in action on Saturday, January 3, when they welcome 19th-placed Cheltenham Town to the Kassam Stadium.

SIEMENS

Keith Donaghy is always happy to discuss with you any hearing problems that you, or a close one, may be experiencing and to share his expertise and knowledge in helping people to hear clearly and precisely.

Sound Advice from Hearingcare

Hearing is one of our most important senses and like eyesight should be looked after.

Hearing is a sense which when lost can isolate people in a world where they fear going out and socialising because they just can't hear and understand. Losing hearing also denies people the joy of the simpler things in life like the birds singing in the trees or communicating with family and friends.

Peta and Keith of Keith Donaghy Hearingcare, based in Witney and Banbury, believe people should treat hearing difficulties as seriously as they would if they had poor eyesight. Keith Donaghy, a qualified hearing aid audiologist for 27 years, travels the length and breadth of the county testing peoples hearing and fitting discreet custom made hearing aids to restore sound to their lives.

The company also offers a comprehensive aftercare service to fine tune and re-adjust the aids to make sure that they are working to the best of their ability and most specifically for each client's needs. Peta, who also works at both centres, said the joy of their profession is seeing people who have not heard properly for sometimes many years cry with joy at simple things. She said "I think that's why my husband does this job"

Peta says that when people start losing their hearing they should have it tested as soon as possible. If people have regular hearing checks then problems can be detected earlier rather than later which will help in bringing their hearing back to as near normal as possible with an appropriate hearing aid system.

Hearing aids are so efficient now that they can distinguish between background noise and speech, they can enhance speech thereby making it clearly heard whilst controlling the level of background noise. If people started wearing hearing aids as soon as they had a problem then they would adjust more easily to hearing again. If people wait several years after becoming hard of hearing, then the brain takes a lot longer to adjust.

With age related hearing problems the higher frequency sounds deteriorate first making sounds like the telephone, birdsong, and voices muffled and unclear. Keith Donaghy said that being unable to hear properly can have social implications which can leave people reluctant to go out and socialize. People can stop going to church, going to the pub or on trips as they can't hear or understand and are frightened of mishearing people or missing instructions and important information.

Hearing aids can cost anything up to and over £1000.00 but can last for five years or more. Each aid is individually crafted to fit each person's ear perfectly, they have vents which allow the ears to breathe and are hypoallergenic making them very comfortable to wear.

Peta Donaghy warned prospective customers to be careful about online offers and to consider that "you get what you pay for". She said that Keith Donaghy Hearingcare is an independent company and can offer completely impartial advice and an aftercare service that is vital to make sure things run smoothly for the future of the patient and their hearing aid system.
